

Mapping our Rising Futures programme against Ofsted criteria

We empower young people to believe in themselves and discover their personal potential. Since 2012, we have won many awards for our high-impact programmes.

Throughout the programme, Year 7-11 students focus on four key Talent areas:

Confidence

Resilience

Communication

Self-awareness

Ofsted is looking for...

schools to develop responsible, respectful, and active citizens.

- ✓ During their Play Your Part trip, students are immersed in a community action project for a day.
- ✓ Through volunteering, students realise the benefits of 'giving back'.

Ofsted is looking for...

promotion of equality of opportunity and an inclusive environment.

- ✓ Students go on immersive trips to connect them with new experiences and perspectives, encouraging them to play a part in their communities.
- ✓ Our programmes offer additional support for those students who need it, enabling them to thrive at school and access the same opportunities as their peers.

Ofsted is looking for...

development of pupils' character, giving them the qualities they need to flourish in society.

- ✓ Our fully trained Coaches support students to self-reflect and take responsibility and set themselves SMART goals for their development in the classroom and beyond.
- ✓ As part of their World of Work trip, while visiting an inspiring workplace, students gain insight into working life and think about their future career.

Ofsted is looking for...

development of pupils' confidence and resilience so that they can keep themselves mentally healthy.

- ✓ Our school programmes are specifically designed to boost confidence and resilience.
- ✓ We have a proven impact on students' confidence and resilience - 73% of students on our programmes improved their confidence and 69% improved their resilience.

Ofsted is looking for...

schools preparing their pupils for the next phase of education.

- ✓ The programme develops self-coaching skills which remain with students beyond the end of the programme, enabling them to thrive in education and future employment.
- ✓ Schools receive an Impact Report with individual student progression, and detailed next steps for development, perfect for your Ofsted inspection.
